[illegible]

SPRINGFIELD, ILL., Oct. 23.—Moses Williams, a young fellow sentenced to the penitentiary a few [illegible] for larceny, claims to be able to solve the [illegible] surrounding the death of the ex-Secretary of State, Sharon Tyndall, murdered in this city in April, 1871, whose murderers have so far eluded detection. Williams says four men were implicated and offers to point them out, provided upon their conviction, he receives pardon for his present offense. He claims that, in denouncing them he also avenges himself upon a gang who helped his last conviction, because he knew too much. Williams, although young, is a noted thief and has heretofore been chief of a gang infesting this city.

C[illegible] of a Murderess.

[illegible], Oct. 22.—Lizzie Schuttler confessed this morning that she murdered Mrs Braunlin on [illegible] last. She states that no other [illegible] of the family had any connection with it. John and Catherine Schuttler were held as accessories.

About 12 o'clock last night John was found with his head horribly smashed and beside him an iron tipped cart rung covered with blood. Michael Cody, owner of the building, his son James and James Murray were arrested.

Death from Malpractice.

PEEKSKILL, N. Y., Oct. 22.—A strange woman died here suddenly the other day and was buried hastily. The body was subsequently exhumed and a medical examination showed that death was caused by malpractice. The man who accompanied the woman is understood to have intended leaving by steamer to-day for Germany and New York. The authorities have been informed that the woman's name was Hern of Dresden.

Canal Boats Lost.

Nine canal boats were lost in the storm the other night, involving a loss of $300,000.

WASHINGTON CITY.

Silver Currency.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—The Treasury Department has notice that fifty thousand ounces of silver have been received at the Mint in Philadelphia, from Chicago, with a request that it be coined and returned in half and quarter dollars and dimes. It will furnish change to the amount of $62,500. Silver is now paid out, to a limited extent, in this city. Dr Linderman, Director of the Bureau of the Mint, says silver will be in as general circulation as currency on [illegible]. All the mints in the country have [illegible] to work, to their full capacity, in coin[illegible]

[illegible] was concluded yesterday and those examined with the exception of Dr Bissell will leave for the North. Reid, United States Consul at Dundee, reports that Bryan, Booth and Mauch of the Polaris had reached his consulate and would leave on Friday for the United States. Dr Bissell will remain in Washington until the new chart of the Polaris is completed and will be temporarily attached to the Smithsonian Institute.

The President Unwell.

The President is unwell and has remained in the private part of the Executive Mansion. He was complaining yesterday of severe cold but attended to public business.

The President's Views of the Financial Situation.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—The President to-day received a large number of visitors. He was asked about the contents of his recent letter to Mr Williams, of the New York Bank. The President said he therein repeated his former remarks, namely, that in addition to what had already been done by the Government the only way of relief was for the Government to buy exchange, but exchange could not now be bought as the Government has no use for it, having already purchased enough on London for the Navy and State Departments to answer the present purpose. There is no intention, he further remarked, to draw on the $44,000,000 reserve except to meet the current expenses of the Government. Money will be used for no other purpose.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

More Polaris Survivors.

LONDON, Oct. 23, 5 A. M.—The whaler Pro arrived last evening at Dundee with three men of the Polaris crew who were transferred from the Intrepid. They are in excellent health and will sail for New York on the steamer Georgia on Friday next, having been tendered a free passage by the owners.

Closing of the Tichborne Case.

LONDON, Oct. 23.—After a recess in the Tichborne trial to-day a note was received from Dr Kenealy stating that owing to illness he could not again appear in the case to-day and expressing a hope that he would be able to rest the case for defense to-morrow.

LISBON, Oct. 23.—The police have seized a quantity of arms destined for the Carlists, the arrested parties having them in charge.

GENERAL HARRISON.

HOW COL. CHAMBERS WAS APPOINTED GOVERNOR OF IOWA.

[From Harper's Magazine for October.]

He had great respect for the members of his Cabinet, and generally acquiesced in their suggestions without remonstrance. On one occasion, however, he asserted the authority of his office with a degree of determination and dignity that astonished the Executive Council. Colonel Chambers, of Kentucky, a intimate personal friend, who had served on the staff of General Harrison in one of his campaigns against the Indians, was under engagement of marriage with the widow of his son. Chambers accompanied him to Washington, at his request, and the arrangement was that he should have the appointment of Register of the Treasury, and after the marriage, he was to reside at the White House, Mrs. Chambers to be presiding lady of the Executive Mansion. She was an accomplished, elegant woman, greatly caressed in Washington society. The finished gentlemen by whom she was surrounded at the seat of government, contrasted so strikingly with her Kentucky lover, who was a plain man of brusque manners, that she finally declined to fulfill her engagement. General Harrison was much concerned at this unfortunate contretemps, and perceiving that Chambers would be unfortunately placed in Washington, offered him any appointment elsewhere that he might select. The unlucky suitor asked for the office of Governor of the Territory of Iowa. The place was assured him as a matter of course. Meantime Mr Webster had promised the office to his friend General Wilson, of New Hampshire. At a Cabinet meeting Mr Webster informed the President that it had been decided by the gentlemen of the Cabinet that James Wilson should be Governor of Iowa. 'Ah! that is the decision, then, is it?' said General Harrison. The gentlemen of the Cabinet replied in the affirmative. Without making any further remark the old gentleman wrote a few words upon a piece of paper and handed it to Mr. Webster, requesting him to read it aloud. The Secretary of State looked a little embarrassed, but there was no alternative, and he read, in an audible voice: "William Henry Harrison, President of the United States." The General, rising to his feet said: "And William Henry Harrison, President of the United States, tells you, gentlemen that, by ——, John Chambers shall be Governor of Iowa." Of course that concluded the subject, and Chambers was appointed.

A HORRIBLE DEATH.

A MAN HELD FAST BY A THRESHING MACHINE TO BE BURNED ALIVE.

(From the Sedalia (Mo.) Democrat.)

On Thursday, 27th ult., eight miles from Knob Noster, Johnson county, a party of farmers from the country adjacent were attending James Foster's machine, engaged in threshing wheat on Mr Albaugh's farm, the scene of the horrible occurrence. During the afternoon, while busily threshing, a small wheel broke, the excessive friction produced therefrom quickly igniting the dry wheat straw and chaff with which the machine was surrounded. A stiff breeze was blowing at the time threatening a spread of the flames to a large rick of wheat adjoining. Contemplating at once the desperate emergency, one of the employes, Mr Arnold, mounted the front part of the thresher and attempted to smother out the flame. In stepping on the foot board one foot slipped and his leg entered the machine about half way to his ankle, where, horrible to relate, it became firmly caught. Vain were the efforts to release the poor man from his terrible situation. The machine was run slowly back but effected nothing.

No time was to be lost. The flames were gradually increasing. Unless removed he would be burned alive. A desperate remedy was then resorted to—the last and only hope. A stout man with a common chopping ax then severed the imprisoned leg just below the knee, the amputation requiring three several blows. The unfortunate man was taken from the machine and a runner dispatched for medical aid. A physician was fortunately obtained in a short time, but the wounded man died before he reached his side, although every assistance was offered him by those present. The deceased was aged about 35 years, and leaves a stricken family to mourn his sudden and terrible death. The thresher was almost totally destroyed by the fire. The flames also extended to a large rick of unthreshed wheat, consuming what was presumed to contain from 200 to 400 bushels. The sad affair cast a deep gloom over the community surrounding.

AN INTERESTING MARRIAGE.—A marriage, possessing some interesting features, took place recently at Mount Airy, a village of North Carolina. Both bride and bridegroom are deaf mutes. The former, Mrs Bunker, is the daughter of Eng, one of the Siamese twins; the groom was a Mr Haynes of Raleigh. The two were married by the deaf and dumb alphabet, the words of the minister having been interpreted to them by a teacher in the Deaf and Dumb Asylum. After the ceremony the couple started on a trip to Raleigh. On the way, while crossing a swollen stream, Mr Haynes proved himself a sort of a young Lochinvar. The party were nearly drowned, and, although he never swam before, Mr Haynes saved his life and that of his bride by swimming with her until the bank of the stream was reached.

Semmes writes to correct the impression that General Early was invited by the Southern Historical Society to write a history of the late war. His efforts, it appears, are to be confined to the collection of materials for the future [illegible]

PACIFIC COAST NEWS.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 23.—Sailed: ship [illegible] Hall for Liverpool.

Overland passenger: J. Bruce of Oregon.

The jury in the case of Mary Montgomery, on trial for the murder of Henry Sanchez, were out all night and failed to agree on a verdict. It is reported that they stand ten for manslaughter and two for acquittal.

Last night, while cutting wood, Peter Knapp ruptured an artery and died in a few moments. He was the janitor of Red Men's hall.

There has not been a time within three years when there was as great activity in the lumber trade and lumber mills of this city as now. All the mills are crowded with orders and large quantities of lumber are being shipped into the interior of the State.

There will be a public reception on board of the ship Three Brothers to-day. She will sail to-morrow for Liverpool.

Several months since Edward Lemmon, in an affray, stabbed and killed Benjamin Palmer. He was indicted for manslaughter and tried to-day in the Fifteenth District Court. The plea was self defense, and the jury this afternoon returned a verdict of not guilty.

The trial of Captain Clarke of the ship Sunrise was resumed in the U. S. Circuit Court at 11 A. M. to-day. The testimony for the prosecution has not yet closed.

A large number of people has gone to the Agricultural Park to-day to witness the pacing races. Dan Vorhees is the favorite in pools to-day over Defiance and Longfellow.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 23.—The ship Three Brothers cleared for Havre to-day and will sail to-morrow.

In the Sunrise case this afternoon A. Lee handler, one of the seamen, testified that he had been whipped so often he had forgotten how many times. He was once triced up by the hands at 4 in the afternoon and kept till 4 A. M. the next day. Others testified to acts of atrocious cruelty by Captain Clarke and the mates, such as beatings with ropes, fists and buckets. The trial still goes on.

Next Monday Prof. Lay will go up in the balloon New World with a Justice of the Peace and a young lady, and when three miles above the earth the accommodating Justice will unite them in marriage. After that they will cruise around after that eastern current.

The value of the exports produce from this port for Europe to-day amounted to-day to $470,536 03.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 23.—There was a large attendance at Agricultural Park to-day. Dan Voorhees failed to put in appearance, and Jim Brown did not give entire satisfaction to his admirers. The race was a pacing match for purse of $500, best three in five. First heat—Defiance went to the front and kept the lead to the finish of the heat, Longfellow third and Jim Brown second; time, 2:23½. Second heat—Longfellow beat Jim Brown at the outgo and Defiance took the heat; time, 2:25. Third heat—Defiance took the lead and kept it to the home stretch, when Longfellow passed Jim Brown, collared Defiance and under the wire led him a neck's length, taking the heat; time, 2:23½. Fourth heat—Longfellow again passed under the line ahead, Jim Brown second; time, 2:26½. Fifth and last heat—Defiance got his nose under the line first, but many believed it was a dead heat, but the Judges decided for Defiance; time 2:29½.

The jury in the case of Mary Montgomery, tried for the murder of Henry Sanchez, brought in a verdict of guilty of manslaughter this evening, and recommended the prisoner to the mercy of the court.

Interior California.

COLUSA, Oct. 23.—A cutting affray occurred this morning between I. S. Lightner and G. L. Gandy, in which Gandy received a serious if not fatal wound in the face and neck, completely severing the jugular vein and running down the neck to the left lung.

SANTA BARBARA, Oct. 23.—Yesterday a Dr Coe, living at Montecito, went to the house of a man named Urgudeo, with whom he had had some difficulty of late. Urgudeo opened the door and stepped aside to let him in, and as he did so Coe raised a rifle and fired, the ball passing through the fleshy part of Urgudeo's arm and entered his side and ranged around toward the spine. The wound is painful but not dangerous. Coe was arrested this morning and lodged in jail.

SAN BERNARDINO, Oct. 23.—A train of several wagons loaded with provisions and miner's implements, and a thousand head of beef cattle left to-day for the Ivanhoe mines.

REDDING, Cal., Oct. 23.—The last of the Modocs, under Capt. Hasbrouck, arrived here this afternoon. Capt. Jack's widow is dressed in deep mourning. About thirty cars are waiting to convey them to their destination.

STOCKTON, Oct. 23.—Subscriptions to the capital stock of the Stockton and Ione narrow gauge railroad having reached an amount sufficient to insure the completion of the road, arrangements have been made for the work to be commenced at once. A contract was signed to-day for work to be commenced within 30 days. R. B. Platt, of San Francisco, is contractor.

Hon. J. H. Budd was elected Grand Commander of the Champions of the Red Cross by the Grand Encampment now in session.

In the District Court to-day, Mrs Wilkins was brought before Judge Booker on a writ of habeas corpus, and on motion of her counsel was bailed at $12,000, but in default was remanded to the custody of the sheriff. The trial of this case is for October 29th.

VALLEJO, Oct. 23.—Three cases of smallpox are reported at the Mare Island Navy Yard among the seamen from the U. S. steamer Hasler, which were brought there a few days ago.

The two days races at the track of the Agricultural Association will commence to-morrow. First day's programme, trotting race, purse $250.

SAN JOSE, Oct. 23.—The State Normal School closed to-day with public services appropriate to the occasion given by the students. The school opens again November 5th. In the meantime the Trustees will probably procure another teacher to assume charge of the department of Natural Science.

PLACERVILLE, Oct. 23.—The recount of ballots cast at Georgetown in the contest for Road Overseer developed the fact that W. H. Brown has a majority of three for Sheriff over J. D. Skinner, who received a certificate on the canvass of the supervisors. Brown had previously demanded a recount. Eighty-two Republican ballots had been rejected at that poll.

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 23.—An official circular issued by Adjutant General Foote announces to the National Guard the death at Oakland of Lieutenant Colonel John A. Lancaster, A. D. C. on the Governor's staff, and who was for many years an officer of the organized Militia and National Guard. The funeral takes place at [illegible] M. to-morrow, Friday, from the Grand Central Hotel, Oakland, and will be attended by the members of the Governor's staff and a military escort from the S[illegible] Brigade.

NEVADA.

SILVER CITY (Nev.), Oct. 23.—About 11 o'clock last night a fire broke out in Osborne's Hotel, caused by the carelessness of a woman boarder. Mrs. Merrill, lessee of the Osborne House, lost everything, barely escaping with her life. The following houses were totally consumed—nothing saved of the contents: Osborne's Hotel, loss $1,000; Hawkins' blacksmith shop, $1,500. Mullin's dwelling and [illegible] house were considerably injured by the fire. None of the property insured.

HAMILTON, Oct. 23.—Alex. Cohn was found guilty of arson to-day and sentenced to seven years in the penitentiary. The prisoner wept like a child upon hearing the sentence.

Ruc Lim Gee, the Chinaman indicted by the grand jury for murdering a fellow countryman, was acquitted.

The grand jury adjourned this afternoon, having failed to find a bill against Finney. He was discharged.

Mathews will be sentenced next Saturday.

The fire last night at Washburn's station on the Pioche road destroyed Travis & Co's stables with two horses, one a valuable racing mare, also a quantity of harness, grain and hay. Loss unknown.

BRITISH COLUMBIA.

Chief Mate of the Barkentine Lulu Killed.

VICTORIA, Oct. 23.—James I. Wharton, a native of Boston, Mass., aged 27 years, chief mate of the barkentine Lulu, was accidentally killed at Burrard Inlet on the 20th inst. by falling from the topsail yard to the deck of his vessel. The remains were buried at the Masonic Cemetery, New Westminster.

At the Inlet, the bark Delaware had completed her cargo, and would sail at once for Honolulu.

The Almatia is having new decks put in and will soon begin loading.

The Jean Sands and Red Rover are loading as also the Chieftain and Bremner.

Both mines are in full operation and things are lovely.

ARIZONA.

PRESCOTT, Oct. 18.—On Friday, Richard Colliers was killed by the accidental discharge of his gun, the ball entering the right cheek and coming out on the other side.

BRITISH COLUMBIA.

The Colonist has a glowing account of the Cassiar mines. Gold dust amounting to $8,000 has been brought down.

Mr. Richardson and party are examining Nanaimo river and will work down the coast to Victoria, reaching here on the 1st or 5th of November.

An insane man, named Barney Devine, was brought down from the Omineca mines, and lodged in the Lunatic Asylum at Victoria.

Capt. Hinds, of Port Townsend, has been appointed to the command of the bark Delaware, regular packet between Victoria and Honolulu.

Capt. Moore writes from "Dease Creek, Cassiar mines," to the Colonist, as follows: "This creek empties into Dease river, at the foot of Dease Lake. It is little larger than Germansen Creek and runs east and west. I think it is about 125 or 130 miles from navigation on the Stikeen river. The creek looks very well. There are 22 men on it now, and everybody is making a little money. The gold is coarse and of a fine quality. The Discovery claim, three men in number, are making three ounces per day to the hand. That is the biggest pay taken out of any claim on the creek, but everybody is in good spirits and have got good prospects for the next season. The diggings are not deep. They average from a foot to eight feet in depth. The gold mostly is on the bed-rock, or within six inches of it. This country has good indications for gold. There are lots of creeks besides this one, that, I think, have gold on. There has been nobody out prospecting. Everybody is working for a winter's stake."

Don Piatt says that a good story is told of ex-Senator Cattell, and relates it as follows: "He was on his way from Liverpool to London, an escort for his niece, who had just landed, a stranger in a strange land. One who tries a first-class carriage, or any class carriage, on a railway in Europe is annoyed to find that no provision is made for the various wants of humanity while traveling. Some stupid flunkies in the United States call our cars carriages. Here they are in fact carriages, shaped as such, and about as inconvenient. The ex-Senator after being locked in and put upon his passage at the rate of sixty miles an hour, found, among other wants afflicting his Senatorial carcass, a desire for a drink. It struck the Senator that if he did not get that drink he would most certainly die. To avoid this national calamity, at the first stopping where they were promised five minutes, he opened the door of his carriage as the trained slowed up and making a flying leap, ran into the restaurant and ordered gin and water. As the fair girl of this Mugby Junction handed him the intoxicating beverage, he fixed his eyes on the end carriages of his train and drank. As the train did not move, he ordered brandy and water, and, still gazing, sent that down after the gin. The day was warm, the carriages crowded and dusty, and as the train did not start, the thirsty Senator sent down another glass, and then paying for all, walked out to an emotion made up of disgust and astonishment. The carriages, five in number, were yet motionless upon the track, but there was no locomotive attached nor any passengers about in or out and the station was as quiet as our Senatorial Fog Bank half an hour after adjournment. "Where's the London express?" hastily asked the astonished American politician. "Gone these ten minutes," responded a railroad official. The honorable gentleman while refreshing anchored to five carriages that had been "shunted," as they say here, switched off as we term it, and his fair niece, without money, without tickets, whirled away towards London, where she was a perfect stranger.

The ex-Senator's first impulse was to swear; his second to return and get blind drunk; his last and the one he acted on was to telegraph all his friends in London to hurry to that train and rescue Miss C. Then he sat down in waiting for the next train, that came an hour later. On the arrival of the express in London all the ex-Senator's friends met in the station. Their name is legion. There were private carriages, public hacks, hansoms and dog carts and drays, but no Miss C. could be found, for the good and sufficient reason that she was not there. Advised by the guard she had waited at the next station to await her thirsty uncle. Unfortunately when affairs get out of gear in this way there is no end to the tangle. The telegram to the Senator informing him of the whereabouts of his niece arrived one minute after he had left, so he kept on to London and spent the night in going to house after house in search of his missing niece. We suppose the report to be exaggerated, but it is said that after sixteen different efforts he succeeded in finding the young lady very much fatigued and terribly alarmed."

MINISTERS' HALF FARE.—The Rev. Robert Collyer writes a letter to deny that in recommending the abolition of half fare and other mistaken courtesies to ministers he was unmindful of poor clergymen. He says that since the Chicago fire he is not a rich man and the half fare privilege would be a relief to him, but he adds: "I felt impelled to say what I did, therefore, in the teeth of my own interest, because while I had felt uneasy and a little ashamed about the half fares for a good while, the question was forced home upon me, as it is upon us all, by the recent discussions of the railroad question, and I saw painfully for the first time, when the whole truth came, that we were in a false position and one likely to damage us in the public mind outside our meeting houses in every way, but especially in begetting a quick and keen contempt of our pious mendicancy done in the name of the Lord."

A novel application of ice was made at St Louis recently, when 45 tons were used to cool and thus contract the iron tubes of the mammoth suspension bridge across the Mississippi, to allow the insertion of the connecting tubes.

Fourth Biennial Session.

[From our Special Correspondent.]

OLYMPIA, Oct. 22, 1873.

House opened at usual hour.

H. B. No. 68 introduced, being an act to create and organize the county of San Juan. Read three times and passed.

A memorial was presented by Mr Eldridge praying to have the public survey extended to San Juan and other islands. Read three times and passed.

H. B. No. 69 by Mr Van Vleet, requiring county commissioners to publish their proceedings. Read first time.

H. B. No. 70 by Mr Yantis, an act to relocate a territorial road, was read twice and referred to the Committee on Roads and Highways.

Mr Clark of Pierce introduced the following:

H. B. No. 71, an act authorizing a Territorial appropriation of $1,500 to Peter Rinquest, to purchase his right to a patent shackle for prisoners. Read first time and referred to Committee on Ways and Means.

H. B. No. 72, for prevention of fraudulent conveyances. Read second time and laid on the table, subject to order of the House.

H. B. No. 73, authorizing District Courts to change the names of persons. Same action.

H. B. No. 74, providing for the relief of commission merchants, carriers, wharfingers, etc. Same action.

Mr Van Vleet having taken the chair,

H. B. No. 75 was introduced, an act in relation to Clerks in Supreme and District Courts. Same action as last.

H. B. No. 76, in relation to unclaimed property and lost money or goods. Same action.

Mr Caton then introduced H. B. No. 77, an act to amend an act for establishing a common school system. Read a second time and referred to Committee on Education.

H. B. No. 78, by Mr Caton, an act for the relief of the late Sheriff of Walla Walla county, for expenses incurred in capturing prisoners. Read second time and referred to Committee on Ways and Means.

H. B. No. 46, for the relief of John McFay, was laid on the table and made the special order for next Saturday.

H. B. No. 37, relating to irrigation and water rights in Yakima county. Read third time and passed.

C. B. No. 9 introduced, authorizing the use of streams, providing for the removal of obstructions, for logging purposes, together with a good deal of d—n tearing. (I presume this must mean "swearing.") Referred to Committee on Judiciary.

C. B. No. 6, an act to repeal an act relating to taxes on railroads. [illegible]

It was then moved and carried that the Governor's [illegible] be taken from the table.

Mr Henry commenced the debate, and soon after the House adjourned.

LORDLY VAGS.

STRANGE STORIES OF HIGH-BORN LOAFERS.

In his endless speech for the Tichborne Claimant, the inexhaustible Dr Kenealy cites instances to prove that his client's acknowledged years of vagabondage are no disproof of his nobility. "Why," says the learned counsel, "there was the famous Duke of Wharton, one of the cleverest, but yet one of the wildest men of the last century. After one of the wildest and most reckless careers, he chose to end his life as a monk in a Spanish convent. Then you may have heard of the astounding career of Wortley Montague, whose parents were among the wealthiest in England; but he ran away from home when a child, and he became a chimney-sweep. His [illegible] did all they could to reclaim him, they put him into Parliament (a laugh) and placed money freely at his disposal; but all to no effect. He went into a foreign land, and finally became a Turk, and died after doing many wonderful and astonishing things. Again, there was Lord Rochester, who took pleasure in disguising himself as a porter, or beggar, or a mountebank, on Tower Hill. Lord Ockham, the grandson of Byron, worked as a common sailor in a [illegible] dock-yard, in the Isle of Dogs. But the most extraordinary case was that of Lord Aberdeen, a young man of an extraordinary turn of mind. He went abroad in the year 1866, and never afterward returned to this country. It was in May, 1866, that he last used his real name, with the exception of one occasion in February, 1867, when he drew two checks for £100 each in New York, upon his banker in Scotland. After that date he never drew upon his friends in Great Britain, preferring to live upon his own wages which he derived from the seafaring life he led. He took regular service in foreign and then American ships under the name of G. H. Osborne. He kept up a correspondence with his mother, who resided in this country, until 1869, when it suddenly ceased. His family became alarmed at his silence, and sent a Mr Alexander to New York to make inquiries after him; it was not until six months after he arrived in New York that he obtained the clue. It then transpired that on the 21st of January, 1870, he sailed in the Eva, bound for Melbourne, and on the 26th of the same month he was washed overboard by a wave and drowned. Here was a peer, heir to estates and wealth, giving up everything to follow a seafaring career and to live upon his wages."

THE BEAUTIFUL BRIGANDESS OF CALABRIA.—The Italian journals relate that the environs of Cantanzaro, Calabria, are infested by a band of brigands under the command of a young woman. She is only twenty years of age and of great beauty. Her name is Maria, the widow of Pietro Monico, a bandit chief who was killed in an encounter with the gend'armes. At his death she seized his carbine and swore to avenge him. Some time after, a young man, the son of a wealthy farmer, fell in love with her and joined her band in order to prosecute his suit. He was, however, peremptorily rejected, and in order to revenge himself he betrayed her to the authorities. She was arrested, tried and sentenced to thirty years imprisonment. While undergoing her punishment a warder became enamored of her, favored her escape and accompanied her, but was stabbed to death by her orders immediately she had joined her band. Since that period she has become still more redoubtable, her audacity and activity having redoubled, and she has made herself the terror of the country. She burns farms, carries off cattle, and levies forced contributions. The slightest disobedience of her orders is punished by death. Her troop is numerous and always well informed by the peasantry through dread of vengeance.

WAGES ABROAD.—Sixty cents a day is considered good wages for a working man in any of the European countries except Great Britain, where the wages are somewhat higher. In the Tyrol silk region and in Italy they often do not get more than ten cents. In the country in Germany ten cents is the common pay. Women there often get but two cents. In Sweden men often work from 4 o'clock in the morning till 9 in the evening and do not get more. During the late war many poor women in Berlin were hired to knit stockings for the soldiers for five cents. The profits of the poor who keep petty shops, sell trinkets in the streets or act as sutlers do not average more than three or four per cent. Barbers in Berlin, since the raising of their prices, get five cents for hair cutting, and two and a half cents for shaving. Servants at hotels get from three to eight dollars per month. Servant girls in private families often get but ten dollars a year. Sometimes these classes can not get work at any price.

DARTMOUTH.—Hereafter at Dartmouth College, by order of the trustees, only sixteen speakers from a graduating class are to appear at Commencement. As in past years, however, twenty-four are to be selected by rank, subjects will be assigned them, and their names will appear in the Commencement programme, but of these only sixteen will speak, chosen for excellence in elocution and composition, except the four first in scholarship, who will come on without [illegible]

The Seattle Dispatch says: "Yesterday, Sunday afternoon, about 2 o'clock, a slight earthquake was felt in this place. At 4 o'clock clouds of smoke were seen pouring from the highest peak of Mount Rainier. The smoke was seen until near dark, when the clouds shut down upon the mountain, hiding it from view. Up to the present writing (2 P. M. Monday) the mountain has not been visible on account of the clouds."

The Olympia Courier says: "A warrant of extradition has been received at the Executive office from the Dominion Government authorizing the transfer of the Kanaka 'Joe' from the Victoria authorities to our own jurisdiction. Sheriff Billings has received from the President the appointment of special agent and will go down to-night on the Anderson to take the prisoner in charge, returning with him here. In due course of time the trial will take place on the charge of willful murder of Mr and Mrs Dwyer of San Juan."

The Olympia Courier gives the following details of the tragedy reported in brief by the telegraph a few days ago: "Last Sunday evening, shortly after the steamer Blakely, for Port Blakely, left Port Townsend, some trouble took place between a man by the name of Brown, first mate on the steamer, and one of the deck hands. While Brown was at supper the sailor came to where he was sitting and remarked that he would settle with him when he was done. No one took particular notice of the threat, not even Brown, who thought it would all blow over and amount to nothing. About half an hour afterward, when it was becoming dark, an alarm was given of man overboard. The engine was immediately reversed and the boat brought about, when the forms of two men were seen struggling in the water. But ere a boat could be got to them one of them had sunk beneath the waves. The other man, which proved to be the deck hand who had made the threat on Brown, was picked up and taken on board. The man that was drowned proved to be the fireman. It is supposed that the sailor either used a knife or club upon his victim, for he sank almost as soon as he reached the water. What led to the perpetration of this awful deed we have as yet been unable to learn."

The following tender missive was picked up in the ladies sitting room of the railroad depot at Fonda: "Dear Charles, do you love me as much as you did at quarter to 12? [illegible] Say you do, dearest, and it will [illegible] to go down and [illegible] the [illegible] day." The [illegible]

FRIDAY MORNING, OCTOBER 24, 1873.

THE TRIAL OF MARSHAL BAZAINE.

On the 26th day of October, 1870, Marshal Bazaine surrendered Metz to the besieging army of Prince Frederick Charles, with 173,000 officers and men, 1,341 guns, 66 mitrailleuses, 55 eagles and 300,000 stand of arms. On the 6th of October, 1873, he is arraigned before a court-martial on a charge of betraying the army under his command into the hands of victorious Germany. It will be remembered that shortly after the capitulation, Bazaine went to England where he remained until he was summoned by the National Assembly, in August, 1871, to Paris. The Military Commission of the Assembly made a brief preliminary examination and the Marshal was held to answer a charge of treason. The indictment, which was drawn up by General Pourcet and upon which Bazaine has been arraigned, is based on Article 209 of the Military Code, which reads as follows:

> Shall be sentenced to degradation and death, every commander of a fortress who capitulates without having forced the besieging army to perform all the slow and successive operations of a siege, and without having on his part exhausted every possible means of resistance and done all that duty and honor could [illegible]

The 210th Article orders that when the [illegible] shall be guilty, not of treason or willful neglect, but of remissness from ignorance or bewilderment, the penalty shall be dismissal from the service, with or without degradation.

The French law makes it the duty of the President of the Court—the Judge-Advocate of our system—to interrogate [illegible]. In this instance, as we have [illegible] remarked, there is presented the [illegible] of an Orleanist prince [illegible] trying an Imperialist [illegible] accused of conspiring to establish the regency of Empress Eugenie. [illegible] would shrink from a position [illegible] beset with difficulties and embarrassments, but d'Aumale has entered [illegible] of Bazaine with character[illegible]. With him are associated six [illegible]. Of these, it is said, two will vote [illegible] penalty. But in order to [illegible] of death, a majority of [illegible] must agree on the ex[illegible]. Of Bazaine's counsel, Mai[illegible], a Paris correspondent says: [illegible] all others were opposed to him, [illegible] have a tower of strength in [illegible] the most powerful [illegible] at the French bar. Lachaud's [illegible] clarion, his gestures are fiery [illegible] his style of argumentation [illegible] to the hearts of French [illegible] Dufaure, Grevy [illegible] and then he, but [illegible] successful in convincing [illegible] may be numbered. He has been reading up [illegible] for more than a [illegible] journeyed to Metz [illegible] for himself, and he [illegible] his belief in being [illegible]

[illegible] ought, of course, in [illegible]. The honor of the [illegible] wounded self-love of France [illegible] stained and [illegible] by the [illegible] of Puebla. There is [illegible] which may work [illegible]: it is quite apparent [illegible] chiefly to the political [illegible]. Imperialism is at the [illegible], and it may be that [illegible] of one of its most devoted [illegible] will be dangerously gratify[illegible] of which Gam[illegible] and representative.

[illegible] OR THE POLITICIANS—WHICH?

[illegible] inquiry into the [illegible] briberies which disgraced [illegible] at the recent election [illegible] just at this point. The [illegible] Oregon should take up the [illegible] it a subject of careful [illegible] citizen in this State is in[illegible] the truth or falsity [illegible] preferred by the OREGO[illegible] Custom House ring and [illegible]. The matter should not end [illegible].

[illegible] years the honest and virtu[illegible] of the people of the United [illegible] looking with suspicious [illegible] the conduct of their representatives [illegible] and out of office. The [illegible]lopments of fraud and sys[illegible] in the management of [illegible] in different sections [illegible] have illustrated [illegible] force the truth of [illegible], "Eternal vigilance is the [illegible]." Good men of all parties [illegible] the low tone of public morals, [illegible] disposition to bewail the dan[illegible] is also an indisposition to [illegible] the evil. There are indications that the [illegible] are slowly [illegible] moving on the intrenchments [illegible] and political immoral[illegible]. The voice of the 13th of October was [illegible] sign of an awakening of [illegible] people from their dangerous slumber. [illegible] and sordid men who style themselves "party managers," and who set themselves up for leaders of public sentiment [illegible] be glad to have this slumber last [illegible]. Having asphyxiated the popular [illegible], they would strive to keep the [illegible] in bondage. Thus, when we dis[illegible] the wholesale scheme of fraud by [illegible] Multnomah county was made to [illegible] a fraudulent majority for Hiram [illegible], the Bulletin, a journal of influence [illegible] ability, was silent. We charged a [illegible] clique or ring of public officers with one of the most infamous crimes of which any citizen can be guilty—corrupt[illegible] an election. But the Bulletin had not a word to say, either in condemnation or in defense, of the accused parties. And yet it can denounce Warmoth in most violent language.

It matters little to us whether or not the unfortunate wretches who were bribed are convicted. Perhaps we should feel disposed to pity them for falling into such plight, through ignorance or other excusable cause. And while we cannot look with any degree of allowance upon the conduct of Mulkey, Ward, Withrell, DuBois and other subordinates who executed the schemes of corruption, we feel that the weight of public indignation and censure should fall upon the men who planned the fraud, in whose minds the plot first originated. Ryan, the repeater, may have been [illegible] while he re[illegible] his [illegible] in which the bribers took advantage of men who were intoxicated. This consideration, if proven in evidence, should temper our judgment. And it may be that DuBois, when he put his name to the bail-bond of this repeater, did not appreciate the importance nor understand the bearings of his act. But the men who entrapped Ryan under a promise that they would "see him clear" of all difficulty; the men who contrived for his escape; the men who induced DuBois to put his name to the bail-bond—these are the guiltiest, the most vicious criminals. And public sentiment should recognize this. It is useless to clamor for the incarceration of the penniless and vagrant offender when the high officials who tempted him and caused him to violate the law, entrench themselves behind the dignity of high social or political station and boldly defy attack.

We say that it is the duty of every good citizen to denounce the crime and the criminal. The startling developments of the recent election are but the plague spots which mark the presence and reveal the nature of the disease. The extent of the malady is not now apparent. We have guessed the worst, and in many instances our forebodings have proven true.

We are glad that the people of Oregon have expressed their determination to uproot this insidious disease. To be sure the refusal to indorse these corrupt men and their measures was really a negative affirmation, a passive action, but it showed that the will is active and resolute. Let it be understood that this disease must be eradicated or the body dies. Then give the patient a heroic treatment.

STATEMENT OF JAY COOKE & CO.

The telegraph informs us that proceedings have been instituted by a firm in Washington to declare Jay Cooke & Co. involuntary bankrupts. The parties bringing the suit allege that Jay Cooke & Co. are indebted to them in the sum of $10,000.

Just before this suit was commenced, the defendants, Jay Cooke & Co., caused to be published in Philadelphia papers the following statement of the assets and liabilities of the firm:

Liabilities	$7,937,450 00
Assets—bills receivable, bank, insurance, and other stocks, bonds and real estate	7,867,640 10
$3,750,000 stock of the Oregon Steam Navigation Company	1,500,000 00
Loan to Northern Pacific Railroad Company on bonds of the Company	4,068,251 09
Second mortgage railroad bond stocks, etc	2,530,356 96
Total assets	$15,966,212 17
Total liabilities	7,937,409 26
Excess of assets over liabilities	$8,028,802 91

In commenting on this showing, the Philadelphia Press says that the exhibit of liabilities is exclusive of $1,701,140 99 loans to the firm, which are fully secured by good collaterals. The excess of collaterals upon these loans has been estimated and included in the assets. Although it will, of course, require time in the conversion of the assets, the handsome showing made leaves no doubt of the ability of the firm to pay every dollar of its indebtedness with interest, and still have a surplus of several millions of dollars.

As to the interests of the General Government in this connection, it is now asserted by Secretary Richardson that if Jay Cooke & Co. pay even 33 per cent., the Government, which stands in the position of a preferred creditor, will lose nothing by the failure of the First National Bank of Washington. It is thought that the firm will propose to pay 50 per cent. cash, with interest-bearing notes for one, two and three years for the remaining 50 per cent. of indebtedness. The Treasury Department would accept a proposition of this kind.

The statement given above shows that under favorable circumstances the firm would be able not only to pay their creditors in full, but to resume business speedily with a handsome capital.

WASHINGTON CORRESPONDENCE.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13th, 1873.

The Capital city of the United States is not just now the center of political activity, Congress not being in session and important elections pending in several of the States. Oregon votes to-day for Congressman, and to-morrow Pennsylvania, Ohio, Iowa, and some other of the States, hold elections for State officers. The politicians, who usually may be found hovering about Washington, have gone to their respective States to take part in the campaigns; the office seekers are off taking a vacation; "society" is asleep and will not wake up till the first of January. The gaieties of the Capital do not begin till after New Year's Day.

But we are not wholly without excitement. In the absence of the regular sensations, we are compelled to resort to those that are a little irregular; this necessity, however, is accepted with philosophical cheerfulness, and we listen with pleasure to the various stories in connection with the

of Kansas, which event occurred last Saturday in this city, and was no doubt telegraphed to you. But neither the telegraph nor the press of this city has given the particulars of the affair at any length. There are various and irreconcilable stories in circulation in regard to the circumstances that led to the shooting. It is difficult to arrive at a reliable conclusion, as to what is the truth of the matter. Thus much, however, is unquestioned: Pomeroy and Judge Conway have long been rival politicians in Kansas, both aspiring to the position of United States Senator, and Pomeroy succeeding in reaching the place. They are both Republicans, and some years ago they were warm personal friends. But Conway felt keenly the triumph of his rival, and has not for some time concealed his personal enmity toward Pomeroy. Lately his hostility became more decided, and it is said he made frequent threats against Pomeroy, and Madam Rumor began to assert that there was a deeper wound than political defeat rankling in the breast of Conway. The name of his wife became mixed up in the difficulty, and what was at first regarded as a political quarrel grew into a social scandal. Thus matters stood when Pomeroy, last Saturday as he walked along one of the principal streets of this city, observed Conway a little in advance and apparently waiting for him. He immediately stepped into a business house near by, to avoid meeting Conway, but the latter followed him up and as he turned to come out, fired at him three times with a large revolver. The first shot missed Pomeroy and went into the wall of the building, the second went through his hat, and the third took effect in his right breast. But in passing through the lappel of his coat and vest, and the other garments he wore, the force of the ball was so exhausted that it barely penetrated the skin, lodging against a rib. Conway gave himself up to the police, remarking simply, "That man has ruined my wife and family." It appears that Pomeroy was on intimate terms with Mrs. Conway in Kansas, and it is said their relations have been continued since all the parties removed to this city, notwithstanding the ill feeling between the two men. Whether there was any real [illegible] for Conway's suspicions, or whether, in fact, this was not a mere pretext on his part, there is a difference of opinion. Owing to the position of the parties, and their past relations to each other, the affair created quite a sensation, but this was only momentary. Pomeroy is about town again without any visible inconvenience, and Conway is under bonds of $10,000 to answer for an assault with intent to murder.

You have no doubt noticed the

CHARGES MADE AGAINST ATTORNEY-GENERAL WILLIAMS,

Through the New York Sun. A more unjust attack was never made upon the character of a public officer. The correspondent who penned the slander has a personal spite at the Attorney-General, and takes this method of gratifying his malice. Those who know all the facts in regard to the contracts on the public works, pronounce the accusation utterly and unqualifiedly false. It is fortunate that it is through the Sun that the charge is made, as the reading public have long since come to consider any statement as prima facie false which first appears in its columns.

Speculation is rife here in respect to the prospects of the several gentlemen prominently spoken of for the position of

CHIEF JUSTICE

Of the Supreme Court. The story of Conkling's appointment was made from whole cloth by some of the news-mongers. He is scarcely mentioned here in connection with the appointment. Though all acknowledge his ability as a debater and his accomplishments as an orator, he is not considered the coming man of the Supreme Bench. Judge Miller, one of the present Associate Justices, is freely spoken of, as are Wm. M. Evarts and Judge Hoar. It is altogether probable, however, that those who say nothing know just as much about it as those who talk, and that none of them know anything at all. When it is said that Mr. So-and-So is likely to receive the appointment, it is meant, in most cases, simply that the person named is regarded by the speaker as the best choice that could be made. Not more reticent was William the Silent in regard to his future actions, than is President Grant. The public will know whom the President deems the fittest man to be the successor of Judge Chase, when the nomination is sent to the Senate; till then one person can guess about as well as another. MARY AND I.

'Twas evening in May, and the soft zephyr sighed
Through branches low bending above
My Mary and I, as we wander'd along,
And whisper'd of beauty and love.
"We'll make us a nest like the birdlings," I said,
"And never shall part any more."
"Oh yes," she replied, "and can furnish it nice,
At HURGREN & SHINDLER'S STORE."

"Fair creature, there's many a wealthier man
Would gladly have you for a bride,
But no one can love you more fondly than I—
My treasure, my beauty, and pride!
Oh, had I a mansion, with carpets of gold
And silver, I'd cover the floor!"
But, smiling, she said, "You can purchase the best
At HURGREN & SHINDLER'S STORE."

"I'll spread you a couch upon which to recline
When evening shall call us to rest,
Of the fleeciest down"—"But," she said with a sigh,
"I like a hair mattrass the best."
"Then so it shall be, love; and tables inlaid,
And seats from some far distant shore."
"Oh no," she exclaimed, "They have elegant sets
At HURGREN & SHINDLER'S STORE."

"But, Mary, alas, I must sadly confess
My means are but slender as yet;
To furnish a house in the style you demand
Would hopelessly plunge me in debt—
To ask you to share my poor lodging and board
Is something that I should deplore."
She said with a smile, "You can buy very cheap
At HURGREN & SHINDLER'S STORE."

"To-morrow, then, love, let us journey along
To the corner of Alder and Front street—
'Tis numbers 98 and 100, (river side,)
Where lovers so happily meet.
How many fond souls might be severed for years
From those they so fondly adore,
Were it not for the beautiful furniture they have,
At HURGREN & SHINDLER'S STORE.

They have marble top bureaus and elegant sets
Of Bedroom furniture new,
With center tables and what nots and mirrors great,
And an endless variety of chairs, not a few.
They do a cash business, and with money in hand
To purchase every style of furniture lower,
Are able to supply all the public demand,
At HURGREN & SHINDLER'S STORE.

We went, Mary and I, and can I ever forget
The pleasure that beamed in her face,
As she gazed at the marvels of beauty displayed
In HURGREN & SHINDLER'S place!
We furnished our home in an elegant style;
Been married a twelve month or more,
And Mary is singing this song to her babe,
Of HURGREN & SHINDLER'S STORE.

AMUSEMENTS.

THE SISTERS OF CHARITY
OF THE
HOUSE OF PROVIDENCE,

Respectfully inform the Public that the

ANNUAL FANCY FAIR

FOR THE BENEFIT OF THEIR

Orphan Asylums,

Will take place on the evenings of the 28th, 29th and 30th October,

AT

METROPOLIS HALL,

VANCOUVER, W. T.

THE ENCOURAGEMENT WHICH THE SISTERS have heretofore received makes them hope that on this, more than on any former occasion, they have a right to expect from their numerous friends and patrons a most generous response to their earnest appeal in behalf of the SEVENTY LITTLE WAIFS depending on them for food and raiment. They think it superfluous at this time to allude to the heavy expenses they are now incurring in the erection of a shelter needed to carry out their charitable purposes; and as many have thereby received an increase in their worldly stores, it is confidently hoped that they will generously come forward and share it liberally with the poor destitute Orphan.

Races — Races

THERE WILL BE TWO DAYS' RACING OVER the MULTNOMAH RACE COURSE, on

October 24th and 25th, 1873.

CONVENIENT ARRANGEMENT.—Mr Cunningham whose elegant residence in Holladay's Addition near the bank of the river is rapidly approaching completion has spared neither pains nor expense in making the most elaborate arrangements for furnishing his house with an abundant supply of pure cold water No building now in the city can boast of equal accommodation in this essential regard He has already expended about the sum of $1,000 in the building alone in addition to which he has caused a well over 90 feet in depth to be sunk and an enormous wooden tank with a capacity of many thousand gallons, to be erected on the top of the dwelling In the basement there is a small boiler and engine which will be used in pumping water from the well and forcing it up into the cistern Pipes ramify all over the house radiating from the tank by which the pure element can be distributed throughout the building in any desirable quantity Appliances are also being made so that the yard and surrounding garden can be irrigated The building is situated on high commanding grounds which will greatly enhance the appearance and architectural effect, and also display the handsomely diversified grounds about the residence to excellent advantage On account of the altitude of the building the well although very deep has but three feet of water in it but Mr Cunningham intends to have its depth increased until copious supplies of water can be procured

COMPUTING THE TAX.—By order of the County Court Deputy County Clerk Jas A Waters will commence this morning the computation of the tax roll for 1874 This task involves the figuring up of each property holder's proportion of tax under the several headings of county State military etc and the carrying out of the total amount Under the late law persons are assessed for property less in value than $50 As the amount of tax—however small—must be divided and the precise sum set under the appropriate headings opposite the individual's name an immense quantity of figuring must be gone through with The task involves a very accurate careful and patient computation Each decimal must be carried out to the hundredth fraction of a mill, thus involving a most intricate calculation in each case These nice, fine fractions have to be borne out to the smallest result so that every column will prove itself and the whole book balance Heretofore this task has required about fifteen days but this year it will take about one month's hard labor to place the assessment rolls in a proper condition to be handed over to the Sheriff

NORTH PORTLAND SUNDAY SCHOOL.—We learn from the Advocate that the second year of the existence of this school has closed and a new year has begun Two years ago in pursuance of notice given, about twelve or fifteen persons mainly members of the Taylor street M E Sunday School, gathered in the Skating Rink and organized the present flourishing school From there it was removed to the North Portland school house, where for nearly a year it remained until it was removed to its present quarters, corner of Ninth and D streets. The Secretary's last annual report showed an unusually good average attendance of officers, teachers and scholars, which is the best evidence always of a successful school. There are enrolled, as actual members, about 75 names, and the attendance, during the year, has ranged from 20 to 72, averaging, during the year, 45 The attendance latterly has been upwards of 50 and increasing The officers for the present year are the same as last, viz. Superintendent, E J Northrup, Secretary and Chorister, J. F. Clark, Librarian, E F Howes, Organist, Nellie Waltz.

RAILROAD MATTERS.—A gentleman just from Tacoma furnishes the following notes concerning the railroad The grading for the road has all been finished through to Tacoma There are about ten miles of railroad iron which has not yet been laid. From the present end of the road to the terminus is about 17 miles. Iron is lacking for the last seven miles of the [illegible] None of the [illegible] will be laid until all the [illegible] are [illegible] expected to arrive at Kalama laden with iron. The ties have all been got out and [illegible] along the road, so that nothing remains to be done, after the iron arrives, but to lay down the rails. Although a large force of men are still employed, a great many of the railroad employes have been discharged The force of engineers on the road has been reduced to three, and there has been a vigorous lopping off of expenses A force of men are employed on the new wharf at Tacoma, but that structure is yet incomplete Just when the road will be finished through to the terminus, can not be stated with definite certainty

SILVER AND GALENA.—The recent discovery of a silver and galena-bearing lode about 40 miles due north of Vancouver, mention of which was made in these columns some time since, promises to be of greater value than what was at first supposed This lode has subsequently been worked to some extent with every indication of richness and unlimited extent. As the lode is worked down it is found to constantly widen and augment in richness Some of the outcroppings have been sent to this city for assay An examination was made a few days since, resulting very satisfactorily The ore was found to contain 70 per cent of galena and $57 in silver to the ton This may be regarded as a good average yield for the poorest of the ore A much richer yield can be confidently anticipated after the lode is developed

HANDSOME SHELLS.—At Mr Richardson's auction store we observed yesterday a great number of very beautiful marine shells most of which were obtained by the owner, Prof Elwood, from the Orient These submarine productions are peculiar to such latitudes, and are the most handsome which we have yet seen They are of every imaginable size form, and shade of color Some of the enamel tints, surpass the mingled hues of the rainbow and put to blush the finest efforts of the artist's brush Several of these shells have the Lord's Prayer engraven on their sides in clearly defined raised letters

OFFICIAL VOTE CANVASSED.—In accordance with the law relating to elections and election returns, the County Clerk proceeded on last Wednesday to open the poll books for Multnomah county, and to officially canvass the same in the presence of two Justices of the Peace—L. Anderson and H W Davis The official vote as determined was published in our issue of yesterday Two copies of the official vote of each precinct have been made out by the Clerk and properly certified to One of such copies has been forwarded to the Secretary of State and the other filed in the Clerk's office

NEW WHARF.—Carpenters began work yesterday morning in laying a new floor on the timbers between the Willamette Iron Works and the river for a wharf Piles were driven there many months ago and cross timbers laid Since these piles were driven a number of ships have discharged their ballast thus partially filling up the space and making an enduring rock foundation The wharf is being constructed by the Iron Works and will be used for the present as a ballast wharf The improvement will be about [illegible] feet Next season a second story will be erected

ARRIVED AT LAST.—At length after a very long and tedious delay of many weeks the British bark [illegible] with an assorted cargo consigned to Messrs Janion & Rhodes arrived in the river She was out from Liverpool [illegible] days No accident worthy of note transpired during the protracted voyage The principal occasion of the delay was a succession of calms The vessel looks very rusty and her hull is covered with barnacles She will [illegible] here some time [illegible] The [illegible] from San Francisco in ballast is also in the river

FOR CAPE DISAPPOINTMENT.—Five soldiers who were brought down from Fort Lapwai under sentence of a Court Martial will be taken down the river this morning to Astoria From there they will be conveyed to Cape Disappointment to serve out their respective terms of confinement

MILL PURCHASED.—We learn that Messrs. Corbitt & Macleay of this city, have purchased the large flouring mills at Jefferson, Marion [illegible] owned by C[illegible] & Burnett. [illegible]

WEATHER REVIEW.—We learn from the monthly weather review issued at the office of the Chief Signal Officer at Washington for the benefit of agriculture and commerce that during the month just passed eleven low barometers have crossed the country east of the Rocky Mountains Several of them were remarkably severe over the Upper Lakes and destructive to shipping On the 26th light snow fell in Montana and on the 30th in Minnesota and Dakota Sixty one Cautionary Signals were ordered to be displayed at our war stations during the month for seven storms and the majority of them on the Lakes Thirty Canadian stations were warned of approaching storms

CHANGE OF BASE.—Since operations were begun this season by the new dredger the work has been confined to the Swan Island bar At that point some very necessary work is being done and the channel has been considerably deepened and widened The bar at St Helens will next demand the effective services of the dredger It is the intention to change the field of operation of the dredger to the last mentioned point next week This will be cheering intelligence to shippers

GONE AWAY.—Of the numerous ocean crafts which but a few days ago lined our wharves only three remain They are the [illegible] Theresa Behn and City of Paris They are now loading and will soon go down the river and from thence are to sail for their respective destinations Some four or five large vessels are due here and may be expected any day so that the now deserted docks will shortly be the scene of bustling activity

GEMS OF OCEAN.—Prof Elwood has on exhibition at Richardson's Auction Rooms a fine collection of Oriental sea shells which will be sold at auction to-day at 10 o'clock A M and commencing at 2 P M The Professor speaks of his specimens from a scientific standpoint Go and hear him and carry away some of those submarine curiosities Ladies are respectfully invited to attend the sale

GERMAN SERVICE.—There are several thousand intelligent and sturdy German residents of Portland and yet Rev Mr Gaus has been the only regular Protestant minister among them According to previous announcement Rev J Rosenberg of the Episcopal Church will commence on the 30th of November in Trinity Church regular monthly services in the German language

PARTY OF NIMRODS.—To duck hunters Sauvie's Island and Columbia Slough offers the most inviting and profitable fields Last Sunday morning the tug Ben Holladay took a number of duck hunters down to Sauvie's Island They were absent all day and returned late in the evening laden with the spoils of the chase after a most successful day's sport

STOCK.—Shipment of stock still continues to the Sound country and Eastern Oregon This morning 32 head of fine beef cattle will be shipped over to the Sound to supply the markets. Also 30 head of blooded sheep are to be sent up the Columbia Their destination is Umatilla, where they will be placed on one of the extensive sheep ranches in that locality

ODD NAMES.—An inspection of the poll books of some of the precincts in this county, discloses the fact that some of the voters possess very odd names or some very bad spelling was done by the clerks. For instance, we find that in one precinct the following persons voted "Pheelicks G——, "Elleksander Y——," "jHon M——, etc

ACQUITTED.—The two men Charles Seigle, alias Charles Eckand, and John James, were tried in the Circuit Court on Wednesday These parties were charged with having stolen a boat After a short deliberation the jury returned a verdict of not guilty Defendants were set at liberty and bonds exonerated

NUMBER THUS FAR.—The Police records for the present month do not indicate unusual activity If the number of arrests thus far made can be regarded as an indication There have been, since the first of the present month 121 arrests made which is a fraction over five a day

LOADING WITH SALMON.—The barkentine Jane A Falkinburg has completed discharging her cargo of sugar molasses and tropical fruits She is now receiving on board large quantities of barreled salmon In a few days this vessel will sail for Honolulu

SOCIABLE.—The officers and teachers of the North Portland M E Sunday School are preparing for a sociable at their hall, corner of Ninth and D street for the benefit of the S S Treasury It will be held on next Wednesday evening, commencing at 7 P M

FLOUR.—The Dalles boat brought down on Wednesday evening a large quantity of flour This article came from Walla Walla and vicinity It is the third or fourth shipment that has been made this fall of flour ground from the present season's crop

SENTENCED.—Charles Murphy was tried a few days ago in the Circuit Court under an indictment for larceny He was found guilty and sentenced yesterday morning to imprisonment in the penitentiary for one year

NEW PLACE OF MEETING.— Our Literary Society will hereafter meet in Nonpareil Hall corner of First and Madison streets instead of the County Court room Meeting will commence this evening at 7 o'clock

CHAMPIONS OF R C.—There will be a regular meeting of Harmony Encampment No 4 at Nonpareil Hall to-morrow evening The regular meetings hereafter will be held on Saturday instead of Friday

STILL AT WORK.—The grand jury are still engaged in the investigation of criminal cases There are a number of cases which will receive an early and careful examination at the hands of that body

BUSINESS NOTICES.

Energetic agents are wanted to canvass in Oregon and Washington Territory by McKibben & Davidson general agents of the celebrated Wheeler & Wilson Sewing Machines For full particulars see advertisement

In another column is an advertisement from the National Life Insurance Company of the United States The public will bear this fact in mind that this Company has no possible connection with the National Life Insurance Company of New York which recently failed The former Company never had a dollar invested in Northern Pacific Railroad bonds, or a dollar on deposit with Jay Cooke & Co

Those enterprising merchants Hurgren & Shindler have fully re-established again this time in Corbett's fire proof building corner of Alder and Front streets They do not propose to sit down and wait for customers but have started in a business like manner to advertise extensively their new and immense stock of furniture upholstery goods etc They have a large force of workmen industriously engaged in manufacturing for the fall and winter trade Orders come in so thickly that every effort has to be put forth to get out new goods We refer with pleasure to the very attractive advertisement which appears under "New To-day" You must see their stock to appreciate it By all means call at Hurgren & Shindler's

TOADYING.—One man who had waited for nearly two hours to see the President—a man of importance in times gone by but who cannot take even the lowest seat on the political footstool now—asked of the colored waiter who stood Cerberus at the dining room door, if the general would soon be out The colored waiter replied that there was no telling when the President would give up Whereupon the man of importance in times aforesaid queried with a dignified semi-tragic sort of an air just as Billy Florence would do it, "If I may ask you, my colored friend, upon what great meats doth this our Cæsar feed that it should take him almost two hours to get through with it Why, Andy Johnson, your Moses you know would have got it down in half the time and'—lo the dining hero comes. But before the sentence could be finished, a middle-sized, dark complexioned man stooped a little in the shoulders, with a lady on his arm, and looking neither to the right nor the left, but pushing for the nearest stair case [illegible] by our friend cutting short his remarks, and then there was a general buzz "There goes the President" "My what a plain little person he is" "Why he don't look much after all Well he ain't going to be no Cæsar, nohow, and much more to the same effect But the plain little man minded it not He passed up the stair-case to his room, lit a cigar just after he got there, took possession of the biggest chair in the room and a few moments later, just when he had squarely settled down to his smoke received his friends who were permitted to shake his hand as they filed past him and then passed out.—Cor Pittsburg, Pa, Dispatch

DEATH OF BARNUM'S RHINOCEROS.—Early Monday afternoon says the Baltimore Sun of October 2d Barnum's large rhinoceros then on exhibition in Philadelphia gave signs of unusual excitement and presently began a vigorous assault upon the iron bars of the cage vainly endeavoring to break through and soon after died The Philadelphia Telegraph says The struggles of the great brute drew a crowd around the cage, but when the wood work began to succumb to the furious assaults of the enraged animal and it became evident that there was great danger of its escaping from its confinement the feeling of curiosity gave way to that of fear and when the huge monster with a terrific snort and powerful upward thrust with its head, carried away the top of the cage ripping it off as though it was thin gauze the crowd became paralyzed with fear Women and children shrieked in terror and sought safety in flight while strong men stood speechless before the danger that threatened them The struggles of the dying animal were fearful to behold but fortunately were of short duration As it was the cage was torn and shattered so as to render it unfit for further use and had the paroxysms continued a few moments longer, loss of human life might have resulted The dead animal was the largest one of its species in the country and cost nearly $20,000 It is understood that it died from a fit The corpus will be sent to the Smithsonian Institute for preservation

THE "INDEPENDENT DEFENDER."

CONFLICT BETWEEN THE COMBATANTS OF JESUIT [illegible] — INTERESTING LIBEL CASE IN THE POLICE COURT — ONE OF THE CHAMPIONS OF RELIGIOUS LIBERTY AND MORALITY AND MOULDERS OF PUBLIC SENTIMENT RELATES HIS EXEMPLARY HISTORY

The case of H C Bennett publisher of a weekly paper called the Independent Defender against whom a criminal prosecution for libel had been instituted by Robert F Fitzgerald came up for preliminary examination in the Police Court this morning, and attracted a large [illegible] audience.

[illegible] the complainant, was invited to the [illegible] stand to explain his grievance. He [illegible] that he was a publisher by occupation and was [illegible] engaged as an equal partner with H. C. Bennett, in the publication of the [illegible] Defender. It required $200 in cash [illegible] that journal, which amount of capital was paid in by Fitzgerald, Bennet putting in his [illegible] experience and literary ability as a corresponding amount of stock. Fitz [illegible] his connection with the Defender with the sixth number, when he was [illegible] by Bennett putting a padlock on the [illegible]. Witness produced a copy of the [illegible] of the date of October 11th, containing [illegible] article, stigmatizing him as a [illegible] scoundrel." The paper was admitted as evidence, and the Prosecuting Attorney [illegible] to read the article.

[illegible] OF HIS CHARACTER

[illegible] of the production was that [illegible] was about to start a journal to [illegible] American institutions, and particularly [illegible] schools, from the imminent [illegible] with which they were [illegible] of the Jesuits were [illegible] the co-operation of Fitzgerald [illegible] armed with credentials of an [illegible], commending him as a powerful [illegible] in the work of [illegible] the persecutions of the Jesuits. I had to get another [illegible] because they had [illegible] libel [illegible] me on the [illegible] I took the name of Evans. [illegible] He [illegible]

Witness (slightly startled, as if by a certain recollection)—Yes, I believe I was, but then the jury had to acquit me

The witness was here questioned concerning the terms of his co partnership with Bennett in the independent defending business, and the books of the concern were produced and examined but with no satisfactory result showing what became of various sums of money collected by Fitzgerald on the account of the Defender. The witness was then allowed to descend from the stand with the admonition that he might be required again to testify further in behalf of the defendant

A FEW OF THE 'INDEPENDENT' ADVERTISERS

Were then called as witnesses, and testified to having given orders to Fitzgerald to insert their business announcements in the journal where they would be likely to reach the eyes of the moral and religious portion of the community particularly the anti Jesuit class and who had also paid their bills to that gentleman

Thomas Houseworth optician testified that he had given an advertisement and overpaid the account by giving Fitzgerald a pair of gold spectacles and a pair of opera glasses. In reply to a question by defendant's counsel witness stated that when Fitzgerald applied to him, he inquired if he was not the same person who was in the insurance business a year or two ago, and who procured a pair of opera glasses, valued at $28 and another pair of $10 spectacles, which he neglected to pay for. Fitzgerald replied that he was not and remarked that there were a number of persons by the name of Fitzgerald in the insurance business. Witness had since convinced himself that the complainant in this case was the same who defrauded him out of the articles mentioned

Counsel remarked that he desired this point to be brought out as going to show that Mr Fitzgerald was a liar, which was one of the several specifications of the alleged libel.

The Court took a recess at 12 M until 2 P .M On reassembling the Prosecuting Attorney stated to the Court that, from the nature of evidence already adduced in this case and additional evidence which he had been informed of embracing proof of Fitzgerald's convictions for thieving, forgery, bigamy etc it was useless to proceed further with the prosecution and he would therefore move that the charge against Bennett be dismissed

Counsel for the defendant regretted that the motion should be made, as they were anxious to give Mr. Fitzgerald entire satisfaction in substantiating the reputation he had received from the Independent Defender

The Court, however, accepted the unconditional surrender of the Prosecuting Attorney, and dismissed Bennett. The maligned journalist, Mr. Fitzgerald, departed hastily. What name he is known by since the termination of this case has not been mentioned —S F. Bulletin, Oct. 18th

The increasing demand for funds to move the grain crop co[illegible] all the surplus capital offering in our local money market and still the complaint is not infrequently heard of a serious lack in this regard. This condition of affairs is not surprising, nor is it any indication of a serious lack of money in the country, for [illegible] September 1st the wheat exporters have disbursed in our State at least $1,600,000, and not near one-half of it has yet returned to the ordinary channels of business, the greater portion lying idle at [illegible] in the hands of men in the interior of the State, farmers and others. The lack, however, is none the less severely felt on this account. Ex[illegible] somewhat short as a rule, and hence do not find it to their interest to urge the market, nor will they do so until the arrival of ships [illegible]

The volume of trade during the past week has been quite up to the average of the season, and remittances have been free from some sections, [illegible] as large as could be reasonably expected, [illegible] the generally supposed full-handed condition of the producers of the country.

A W [illegible] says arrangements have been made for the coinage of $10,000,000 in double eagles [illegible] further orders. English sovereigns, of which heavy shipments are now being made to the United States, are rapidly converted in to American coin. Not many years ago there was less coinage in a twelvemonth than is now witnessed [illegible]

[illegible] Freight and Ships.

A late issue of the New York Times on the above subject says

The [illegible] list of certain materials free of duty, used in ship building, as provided in the tenth section of the act approved June 6, 1872, has been found to operate favorably to some extent.

It is, however, the opinion of those most interested in the development of our shipping interests, that Congress will see the necessity of making all needed concessions during the next session and thus impart increased vigor and life to this most important interest. It is also thought that if a law were passed granting a preference in awarding of mail contracts to American lines running American built ships that an additional impetus would be given to the building of large ocean steamships.

Cotton freights are from three-eighths to seven sixteenths of one penny per pound here, while it is expected that the prices will shortly be considerably augmented. At New Orleans it is confidently asserted one penny per pound will be freely paid before Christmas. For general cargoes, rates are considerably enhanced, with a particularly lively business. The leading ship-brokers' offices are literally besieged by merchants and others requiring [illegible], and it is with the greatest difficulty that these gentlemen can satisfy their customers. One broker informed a Times reporter yesterday that had he 500 [illegible] on hand he could charter them all within four hours, so eager is the demand

Home Produce Market.

WHEAT—The entire week has passed with but few transactions of importance only some 15,000 [illegible] having changed hands in our market to our knowledge, though doubtless more has been pur[illegible] for. The [illegible] is loading are rapidly reducing the stocks on hand, but much will remain after all the ships now in port have completed their cargoes. The market is quiet to-day and offerings are not free at any advance on $1 80 per cental, the rates last given by us, though $1 85 might be had for some lots of choice

FLOUR—The condition of the trade in this city is noted as dull, but the quotations given are unchanged. The supply has somewhat increased during the past week. The best brands of extra are quotable at $6 @ bbl outside extra, $5 50, country brands, $5, fine $4 50; superfine, $4.

OATS—The farmers are said to be too busily engaged in preparing the ground and putting in their fall crops to do much hauling at present and as no very great quantities of this cereal had been stored on the lines of transportation prior to the late rains, the receipts at this point are not large though owing to the lack of shipping facilities above what is required to carry Wheat the demand is limited and prices kept down to about 47 cents ₩ bushel

BARLEY—The shipment of this cereal from San Francisco has grown to be quite a prominent feature of trade in that city and may influence our market the present season. We quote nominally at $1 40@ $1 45 ₩ 100 lbs.

HAY—The receipts are increasing but no more than to keep pace with current demands. As winter approaches, prices are becoming rather firmer and sales are effected with less difficulty. We quote choice baled Timothy at $14@15 ₩ ton loose. Si[illegible] Wild is dull sale at $8@10 and but little wanted

FEED—The supply is not large but adequate to present demand. Prices are firm at $15@18 ₩ ton for Bran $22 50@25 for Shorts and $27 50@30 for Chop and Middlings

POTATOES—Large lots are offering at reduced figures and finding difficult sale. The local trade creates about the only demand and is supplied at 35@40c ₩ bushel according to wants of buyer and variety offered

APPLES—The supply is in excess of the demand and prices as usual depend upon the variety and manner of packing. We quote at 37½@50c ₩ box

ONIONS—Market still quiet at 1[illegible] ₩ lb. Others are low

BACON—Nothing new is noticeable in our market to day, quotations standing at 16@17c ₩ lb and dull for Sides with a full supply and 10@11c for Shoulders and 1[illegible] for Hams both scarce. These figures are for ordinary lots, fancy brands commanding a few cents advance

BUTTER—The market is in full supply if we make the usual exception of choice [illegible] use which is generally in good demand at fancy figures. The receipts however of the past few days have tended to relieve the wants of the local trade and prices are only moderately firm at 30@35c ₩ lb for best, 18@22c for good and lower for common

CHEESE—We notice some inquiry for a good article at 16@17c ₩ lb with receipts of small lots only

EGGS—There has been almost an entire scarcity of this product in our market for several days and jobbers are freely taking all that offer at [illegible] per dozen with the possibilities of a small advance for fresh receipts.

POULTRY—There is still a full supply at rates unchanged from our last quotations. Chickens are quotable at $[illegible] 50 ₩ doz. Ducks, $4@5 50. Geese, $9@10. Turkeys $1@18

BEEVES—There is still a goodly number of fine beef cattle reaching our market from Eastern Oregon and Washington Territory, though scarcely the excess noted earlier in the season. Butchers and packers say prices will not materially advance until a much later period in the season. We quote 4@ 5c ₩ lb on foot.

DRESSED HOGS—Demand light at 6@7c ₩ lb

SHEEP—There is some call at $2 50 ₩ head for [illegible]

HIDES [illegible] are active and [illegible] firm at 14@15c ₩ lb for dry 6@8c for green and green salted.

WOOL—We notice some small lots on the market, the choice commanding 25c ₩ lb was of very superior texture, long staple and clean. Common ranges at 19@22c ₩ lb

Ordinance No. 1,391.

AN ORDINANCE TO DETERMINE THE PROportionate share for which certain property is liable for the improvement of the streets fronting or abutting thereon

The City of Portland does ordain as follows

Section 1 That portion of the public streets fronting or abutting upon and bounded by certain of the lines of Blocks numbered 312, 316 and 315 in Gillihan's Addition and Block 105 in Couch's Addition being irregular in their lines, and intersecting at other than right angles and in such manner that the ordinary method of making assessments for improvement of intersections of streets are insufficient to protect the right of parties interested the mode of determining the proportionate share of the cost of improving that portion of the streets in front of or abutting upon said blocks and lying within the irregular lines above mentioned which are considered as frontage or as intersection shall be as hereinafter set forth

Section 2. A line commencing on the center line of B street 24 feet easterly from the intersection of the center lines of B and North Fifteenth streets running thence easterly and southerly 168 feet more or less to a point in a line running from the northeast corner of block 315 to the southeast corner of block 105, 60 feet more or less and equidistant from said corners shall be deemed the center line and that portion of said street or streets lying south of said line and in front of said Block 315 shall be chargeable to said Block and that portion of said street lying north of said line and in front of Block 105 shall be chargeable thereto

The remaining portion of the street or streets mentioned and described in Section one (1) of this Ordinance shall be subdivided as follows

That portion bounded by a line commencing at the S. E. corner of Block 105 running thence easterly on the north line of B street 30 feet to the center of North Fourteenth street thence southerly on a continuation of the center line of North Fourteenth street 30 feet to the center line of B street thence westerly on a continuation of said center line of B street 2[illegible] feet thence southwesterly 53 feet more or less to a point in a line running from the N. E corner of Block 315 to the S. E. corner of Block 10, and equidistant from said corners thence along said line 59 feet more or less to the place of beginning shall be chargeable to the S. E [illegible] of said Block 105.

That portion abutting upon Block 313 and lying easterly of a line commencing at a point on a continuation of the center line of B street 27 feet west [illegible] from the intersection of the center line of North Fourteenth street therewith thence southwesterly [illegible] feet more or less to a point in a line running from the N. E corner of Block [illegible] to the S. E corner of Block 10, and equidistant therefrom and thence running southeasterly [illegible] feet more or less to a point where the center line of Washington street intersects the east line of Lownsdale street shall be chargeable to the westerly portion of said Block [illegible]

That portion lying between a line commencing at the intersection of the east line of Lownsdale street with the center line of Washington street running thence northwesterly [illegible] feet more or less to a point in a line running from the N.
